Reformation Sunday

- Today is Reformation Sunday.
- Today we celebrate the beginning of the Lutheran Church.
- Martin Luther is the reason the Lutheran Church exists today!

How Many Theses?

On Reformation Sunday, we celebrate October 31, 1517! That was the day that Martin Luther posted a list of theses on the door of a Catholic church in Wittenberg, Germany. Luther's theses were protests about the way the church worked at that time. He wanted to share his ideas about how to make the church better. This was a risky move, but many people say it began the Protestant Church. Can you count how many theses Martin Luther wrote and nailed to the door?

What's Lutheran?

Reformation Sunday celebrates the beginning of the Protestant Church, which gave birth to the Lutheran Church. In the box is a list of statements that describe both Catholicism and Lutheranism. Read them, figure out which tradition and rewrite them under the "Catholic" side or the "Lutheran" side. Are there any that fit in both?

- Ordains women and men to be ministers
- Claims that there is nothing you can do that will make God love you more or less
- Believes in purgatory, the step between earth and heaven
- Believes you have been saved by grace through faith
- Believes the bread and wine in communion is actually, literally, the body of Jesus
- Calls church services "mass"
- Has a Pope
- Pastors can be married and have children
- Teaches people to love God and love your neighbor
